

Two phone calls:

Dan Dickerson – opposed to Digital meters; wanted a call back:

Susan Miller wanting to know if there will be an opt-out. I told her yes there would be, we don't know what that extra charge will be, it depends on how many people decide they don't want the meter – and that decision wouldn't be made until 2018 and we would give people plenty of time to make a decision.