Heat Pump Water Heater, $300-$600 rebate

Heat pump water heaters are revolutionizing the way we heat water. Heat pump water heaters work like a refrigerator, but in reverse – while a refrigerator pushes heat from inside the unit out to the air around it, a heat pump water heater uses fans and an evaporator to pull warmth from the surrounding air and transfers it to water in the storage tank.

Heat pump water heaters can be installed in a variety of heated and unheated locations such as a garage, basement or utility room.

- Space – Most units require at least 800 cubic feet of air-flow around them; this is the equivalent of 10'x10'x8' of space
- Sound – Heat pump water heaters generate sounds similar to a freezer
- Cold air – While in operation, heat pump water heaters release cool, dry air
- Size/height – Heat pump water heaters are slightly taller than standard electric water heaters

Electric water heating typically accounts for 15 to 20 percent of electric energy use in homes. When installed and used correctly, a heat pump water heater can save you up to 50 percent on water heating costs.

| HEAT PUMP WATER HEATERS | Rebate |
|--|--------|
| Tier 1 | $300 |
| Tiers 2 and 3 | $600 |
| Limit 2 per address. For a list of qualifying products, visit: neea.org/northernclimatespec | |

In existing homes, the heat pump water heater must replace an electric storage water heater. Contractor installation is recommended, but a homeowner may install the heat pump water heater following manufacturer's specifications. Find do-it-yourself installation tips at hotwatersolutionsNW.org. For more information on how heat pump water heaters work and how to purchase, go to hotwatersolutionsNW.org. (Please note: In order to receive some incentives other than the PUD's, the installer must be trained by the manufacturer of the equipment, if available.)

To apply:

1. Install your heat pump water heater
2. Complete the Installation Checklist (comes with the water heater)
3. Fill out this form and submit along with receipt and installation checklist.

The Installation Checklist and receipt must be included with this form.
