

Aerial photo taken Wednesday, November 5, 2008 of the newly created tailrace-spawning habitat. The white areas above the highway and railroad bridges are Chinook salmon redds. The white circular areas below the railroad bridge near the tree (left bank looking downstream) are also redds.

