Q22-Q27 The next series of questions are the same, but instead of the topic being about consolidated operations in Wenatchee, they would pertain to the PUD’s 2019 five-year strategic plan.

2018 Means

- Q27 Direct mail about the plans from the utility: 3.78
- Q22 A community meeting open to the public: 3.35
- Q24 Email feedback: 3.20
- Q25 A telephone survey specifically about new facilities: 2.84
- Q23 An online on-going discussion: 2.81
- Q26 An in-person discussion among 10 randomly selected customers: 2.66
Q28 Underground lines cost two to ten times as much as overhead lines. How would you recommend the PUD respond to underground requests?

- Those who benefit from undergrounding pay the cost: 45%
- Electric utility rates pay for undergrounding even if it means a rate increase for all customers: 24%
- Don't know/Refused: 19%
- Other*: 12%
Demographic Profile

- The average respondent was 53.82 years old, somewhat younger than the previous wave.
- 76% of respondents reported owning their home.
- The average respondent had received 14.74 years of education.
- The average customer reported being a PUD customer for 28.63 years.
- 76% of respondents reported being full-time residents.
- 50% of respondents were male (gender quotas were employed).

There were far more points of unanimity than points of differentiation between Hispanic customers and non-Hispanic customers.

Hispanic customers tended to be slightly more interested in receiving or participating in sources of information pertaining to consolidated Wenatchee operations and/or the 2019 Five-Year Strategic plan.

Hispanic customers averaged 20 years younger than their non-Hispanic counterparts.

Hispanic customers showed an average length of time as a PUD customer 13 years shorter than did their Non-Hispanic counterparts.

Hispanic customers were considerably more likely to consider themselves full-time residents that were Non-Hispanic customers.

Hispanic customers were significantly more likely to take the survey on a cell phone than their Non-Hispanic counterparts.

Recommendations

- Do not expect the various satisfaction scores to improve every year - the study strongly suggests that the PUD is satisfying nearly every customer who is capable of being satisfied.

- In the next replication of the survey, split the five attributes measured in Questions 13 and 15 into five distinct questions.
Recommendations

Be mindful of the fact that Hispanic customers appearing in the customer lists with working phone numbers may not be typical of the overall Hispanic community in Chelan County.

Acknowledge that in most perceptions of the PUD Hispanic customers are indistinguishable from the overall sampling.
