

Annual Schedule for Whitewater Boating on the Chelan River 2017 thru 2019

2017	2018	2019	Time	Flows
Sept 16 & 17	Canceled	Sept 21 & 22	10am to 6pm	Sat: 375 cfs & Sun: 400 cfs

Chelan PUD (PUD) will release flows each year on the 3rd weekend in September. Flows on Saturdays will be 375 cfs and flows on Sundays will be 400 cfs (within an approximate one percent margin of instrumentation error).

The PUD will not be obligated to provide whitewater boating flow releases in the Chelan River when the previous day's average Stehekin River inflow is less than 333 cfs or when the Mid-Columbia Index is greater than $150/MWh ($2,001) as adjusted pursuant to Section 19.1 of the Settlement Agreement.

A minimum number of kayakers is not required for water releases. However, the Safety Code of American Whitewater discourages boating alone. In light of the unique challenges of this run, a minimum of two (2) kayakers must be present at the designated kayak put-in location.

By 5pm on the Friday prior to the scheduled release date, kayakers must register with the PUD in person or via the PUD website: <http://www.chelanpud.org/whitewater-boating.html>

All registered participants and an American Whitewater representative must be physically present at the designated kayak put-in location by 10am on the date of the release. Participants must be no less than 18 years of age. Proof of age is required.

A participant may do more than one run. However, all kayakers must enter the river for a last run by 3:30pm and be off the river by 6pm each day.
